JOHN OWENS was drunk and disorderly here Saturday night, but when Marshal Newland went to arrest him he took to his heels. He was faster of foot than "Brother," who in a short time gave up the chase and sent a bullet speeding after the departing guest.
EXTENSIVE improvements and busy preparations are being made at old Rockcastle Springs, Kentucky, to render its forty-fourth season the most successful in its history. Hotel now open and descriptive circulars and analysis ready for distribution on application to F. J. Campbell, Manager, Rockcastle Springs, Ky.
AFTER lying two months in jail here, Judge Brown has at last succeeded in getting Lear in the Lexington Lunatic Asylum. He is a raving maniac at times and very dangerous, but as neither of the asylums would take him, alleging their crowded condition as the reason, he has been forced to lie in jail.
A USEFUL INVENTION.—Mr. A. C. Sine, of Kings Mountain, showed us yesterday a recent invention of his for measuring and registering lumber, which seems to fill a long-felt want in that line. The simplicity and correctness of the machine is bound to commend it to those who handle much lumber and as there are 25,708 saw-mills in the United States and an average of not less than ten retail dealers to each mill, it can be readily seen that Mr. Sine has a bonanza. He has perfected a number of useful inventions and still has others under consideration.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. S. S. Myers received a telegram yesterday stating that Mr. S. F. White, the father of Miss Madie White, who has been attending the College here, died suddenly Sunday night in Jefferson county, W. Va.

JUDGE M. H. OWSELEY asks us to say to those desiring to run for Superintendent of Common Schools that he will be at Lancaster all next week for the purpose of examining them, as it is made his duty by the new law to do.

THE Superior Court reversed the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the tax cases against the L. & N., so far as the fine and triple tax were concerned, but held that it must pay the taxes of 1876 and 1877, amounting to $897.20.

A CALL ON Rev. J. A. Boyle to become a candidate for Superintendent of Public Schools appears in this issue. No one doubts his capacity for the position and in his present condition no one would appreciate his bestowal more than he.

MESSES ADAM CARPENTER and H. R. Camnitz have formed a partnership for a general undertaking business at McKinney and will keep an assortment of wood and metallic burial cases always on hand. They have a nice hearse and are prepared to wait on their customers neatly and promptly.

JOHN VERNON, of the Wayneburg neighborhood, was tried before Judge Brown yesterday on a charge of stealing 100 crosses from the Cincinnati Southern Railroad and held in $5 for petty larceny. Mr. Lewis G. Gooch appeared as bondsman and Vernon, who had been in jail, was released.

THE brick work of the new buildings has been completed and the roofs are ready for the plaster. With their iron fronts and heavy cornice they are decided ornaments and a man can hardly look at them and keep from being glad that the fire did get in its work.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—Squire George P. Bright seems to be especially unfortunate with his cattle. A few years ago he lost all he had with a mysterious disease and Friday night three fine Short-horn cows were killed by lightning. They were all lying under a hickory tree and were killed by the same bolt. He had recently paid $100 for one of them.

BLACK JACK DENIES IT.—Capt. F. M. Taylor, who was on Gen. Logan's staff during the war and who is now stationed here as special examiner of the Pension Bureau, sent his congratulations to his old chief and at the same time told him of the claims made by one of our old chiefs that he was born in the old stone house at Stanford. The General replied: "The old stone house must be a mistake. I was born in Jackson Co., Ill." Gen. Woodford, who that time was in Kentucky, is also disposed, so if our State has a presidential candidate, Carlisle will have to be put on one end or the other of the democratic ticket.

THE Louisville Times quotes us inaccurately. The last trial of Sam Holmes was not for damages in the sum of $5,000 upon which a judgment of $150 was obtained, but for shooting with intent to kill Marshal Davidson, 15 years ago. Mr. Davidson had already obtained a verdict in the Lincoln Circuit Court for $5,000 damages sustained by reason of the shot, but the Casey court, to which a charge of venue had been obtained, on an indictment charging shooting with intent to kill, entered a compromise verdict of $150 after the jury hung, standing as we now learn ten for acquittal and two for $100 fine.

DAYARD AND McDONALD.—As E. L. W. G. Welch will take part in saying who shall be the democratic nominee for President, his views are of interest to the public and we give them as he gave them to us in reply to our interrogatory: "My first choice is Barard, whom I regard as the purest and ablest statesman of the times. He would make an ideal President and his administration would be the grandest since Jefferson's. McDonald would be a fitting second and the ticket would be of a great strength. I am however wedded to no particular ticket. If it is found that a Western man is more available for his head McDonald would be my choice and any good Eastern man, Gen. Slocum for instance, in fact anybody almost out Cleveland or Flower."

SUMMER.—Uncle Lewis Patterson, father of Mrs. Will Newell, of Ohio, died last Saturday morning aged 80 years. John H. Woodcock and wife, of Lancaster, were down to attend the funeral.—The republicans ratified the nomination of Elaine and Logan with a big blow-out at the courthouse to day.—Mrs. Lucinda Thurman died last week.—Dr. L. E. Cook, a prominent druggist and physician at Burnside, has sold his drug store to N. D. Sigall.—At the examination on Friday for certificates two of the applicants couldn't tell who the governor of Kentucky is.—The Reporter says the pike which the town trustees recently built will have to have switches built to it to enable baby carriages even to pass each other.

THE Jones Brothers at Polaski have sold their store house and stock of goods to Higgins & Wood for $1,800 and will shortly come to Lincoln with a view of purchasing a farm.
